VOLUME CVII.--NO. 259. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 27, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search lights of investigation turned full upon his formula, and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's pecular diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

MONOPOLY OF THE EXPRESS COMPANY.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

So far as I have noticed, your paper ever on the alert to attack great public wrongs, has been the first to inveigh against the excessive rates which are exacted by the Adams Express Company of the people for the transportation of their parcels and packages. This corporation through the many years of our history has without let or hindrance and with the connivance of the nation's law makers insinuated itself so thoroughly into the business life of our republic that any attempt now by any private organization however apparently well devised, would be entirely powerless to change or in any way modify the regulations of the express system as they exist and continue without interference from year to year. Competition with it in its exclusiveness by any other parties outside of the government is a hopeless proposition.

Mr. Bryan in sounding the keynote of his political platform; namely, "Government ownership," did not give us the merest hint that he meant in any way to disturb this ancient monopoly or infringe any of their time honored and capital protected rights, for well he knew, however satisfied he might have been of the urgent necessity of government reform in that particular, that its monopoly was too strongly guarded by legislators whose influences had been safety and surely secured in advance and could be relied on against all opposition.

Today, there is no greater, more oppressive monopoly of the people's privileges in our republic than the franchises held by this same corporation. It is the parent of all the other trusts which the people without remonstrance have suffered capacious capitalists to afflict them with, and vies with them all in its reckless negation of common rights. What has been the proper and urgent business of everybody in regard to its tolerance has been taken in hand by nobody, and so it has continued unmolested. Seemingly it is a legacy which has come to stay.

The government transmits by its mails all letters, cards, newspapers, magazines, books and light parcels to and from all points anywhere within the limits of the States and territories with expedition and at rates of which nobody complains, and manifestly, it ought to be given the transmission of all parcels, packages and so on, too bulky to be crowded into mail pouches, and when quick transit is desired. This is a right of our people, and they should persistently demand it of Congress and exact of every candidate for membership in that body, a pledge in no unmistakable terms to second and emphasize the wishes of his constituents by voting every time in their interests.

There is not the shadow of a doubt, if the charter of this company could by any means be annuiled and the traffic of carrying all parcels and packages of merchandise could be left open to fair and honorable competition, the prices for their transmission would be cheapened to at least one half of the rates now charged, and ample margins of profit still be left for enterprise.

Mr. Bryan should be interviewed forthwith, and be required to define his views on government ownership and control of this branch of the carrying traffic of our country.

W. H. S.

France and the Vatican,

Cardinal Lecot, Archbishop of Bordeaux, has issued an appeal to the faithful not to join "false Catholics and bad priests" in the formation of associations to take over church property, and warns the parishioners who disobey his injunction that they will lose the rights to confess and receive the sacrament, and notified the priests that they will be prohibited from preaching and administering the sacrament, adding that those who thus wrongfully acquire church property will not only die in a state of sin, but the obligation will rest upon their posterity so long as the memory of the robbery endures.

The French Cabinet has reached a decision regarding the application of the law by which the property and revenues of the churches, in the event of the clergy presisting in their present rebellious attitude, will be sequestrated December 11, but the churches themselves will remain open for public worship under the law of assembly of 1881, during the ensuing year before the law goes finally into effect.

In the meantime, should the clergy refuse to yield, a ministerial declaration will be issued, indicating very clearly the intention of the cabinet to ask Parliament for special legislation to meet the situation. The nature of the measures contemplated, however, will not be disclosed although it is announced that they have been agreed upon.

A drastic measure against the rebellious clergy, according to well-informed persons, has been decided upon by the cabinet, which intends to deal with them as foreign officials. It is understood that the government declaration at the reassembling of parliament, November 5, will contain a proposition to extend to the clergy the clause of the enactment dated June 26, 1889, which declares that Frenchmen holding public office under a foreign government lose their French nationality and rights of citizenship if they refuse to resign within a fixed period when called on to do so by the French government.

It is stated that the Sarrien cabinet, before its resignation, had fully agreed upon the proposal of this measure, but hitherto the secret has been closely guarded. In clerical circles it is considered that the government's action is intended for the purpose of promoting a schismatic movement in the church.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemmorhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, OCT. 27, 1906.

THE NEW YORK HERALD in a recent editorial stated that The Lancet of London, a leading medical journal, in discussing the extensive use of effervescing beverages gave the reason for it. The Lancet is quoted as saying that the effervescent properties of a liquid promote digestion in two ways—first, by the carbonic acid acting as a stimulant to the movements of the stomach, and, second, by assisting in the disintegration of the contents of the stomach. Most people are not so much concerned in knowing whether or not beverages like champagne or Apollinaris are extensively used, but rather in knowing how these "fizzy" liquids can be extensively acquired without assisting in the "disintegration" of the contents of the pocketbook.

IN COLORADO the democrats are confident of re-electing ex-Governor Alva Adams, who was elected two years ago but was removed by a republican legislature in favor of Governor Peabody. When Governor Peabody resigned because of the public indignation over the outrage the republican lieutenant governor stepped into his place. This year leading republicans refused the nomination for governor rather than associate themselves on the ticket with the odious Judge Gabbut. The Colorado election of this year is expected to pay off a number of old scores.

THE POSSIBLE effect on the Congressional elections of the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco is worrying the President more than what course Japan may take in the matter. The administration will invoke the Sixth article of the Constitution, which provides that treaties shall be the supreme law of the land, to test the right of San Francisco to exclude Japanese children from the public schools in violation of treaty obligations. This, of course, will raise the question of States rights.

SPEAKER CANNON says that he has

Philadelphia Record, he will be able to make the acquaintance of thousands of tariff reform republicans, some of whom he will be apt to meet in the next Congress.

GOVERNOR VARDAMAN, of Mississippi, has issued a proclamation to the officers of the law referring to the recent race riots in Atlanta and elsewhere, saying that all negroes who will not go to work must go to the penitentiary. The governor is drawing the line pretty fine when he leaves no intermediary spot between work and the penitentiary, but desperate diseases require desperate remedies.

A COMPANY, to be known as the Industrial Alcohol Company, has been organized with a capitalization of $1,000,000 to handle the denaturized alcohol business of the Distillers' Securities Corporation. So it will be seen that the whisky trust will have as an adjunct a poisoned alcohol combine.

THE PRESIDENT has also hypnotized Secretary Taft. It is known that for a long time Mr. Taft has favored and has spoken in favor of tariff reform, but in his speech in Baltimore last night under the auspices of the administration he warmly defended the Dingley tariff bill.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has not yet given out that list of good trusts, but if they are those trusts that he has taken no steps to prosecute, their corporation denomination must be legion.

It is said that the English aliens at Charlotte, N. C., who were brought to this country in violation of the contract labor law will be deported. It is said that all of the twenty-two aliens had employment before coming to the United States and that they were promised by the agent who brought them over, employment in this country at increased wages. The Department of Commerce and Labor has given instructions that the aliens shall not be placed in a penal institution but must be cared for in respectable boarding houses until the case is settled.

General results of the investigations showing the effect of salicylic acid and salicylates upon digestion and health are given in a report by Doctor H. W. Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry. The report declares that there can be no necessity for its use as food can be preserved in unobjectionable ways without it. "The addition of salicylic acid and salicylates to food," says the report, "is a process which is reprehensible in every respect and leads to injury to the consumer, which, though in many cases not easily measured, must finally be productive of great harm." It was found that the twelve young men who ate at Doctor Wiley's special table at the expense of the Agriculture Department lost in flesh after they had partaken of food in which the salicylic acid and salicylates had been used; that they had "that tired feeling" and were uncomfortable.

E. W. McCormick and Miss Barbara E. T. Kretschmann, arrested on a charge of conspiracy growing out of the wrecking of the Aetna Banking and Trust Company of this city, today in the police court plead not guilty and were held for the action of the grand jury. John T. Hoag, arrested yesterday in Chicago, and Raymond S. Donaldson, arrested here, are to be arraigned later. Donaldson will come into the police court on Monday and plead. McCormick was released on $2,000 bail and Miss Kretschmann, who was a stenographer in the bank and will undoubtedly be used as a government witness, was given her liberty without bond for her appearance.

President Roosevelt's birthday was observed today by the Hungarian Republican Club of New York and by a small army of his friends who sent congratulations or floral tokens to the White House. Col. Bromwell, Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, brought over a very handsome flower piece from the propagating gardens which was greatly admired by a throng of visitors in the ante room of the office building. The visit of the committee from the Hungarian Club was made early in the morning.

Custom House Robbed.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—Using a bomb with which to hold up their intended victim in a crowded street armed revolutionists today successfully engineered the most daring of any of the many robberies committed recently, robbing the cashier of the custom house of 682,000 roubles. With other bombs they cleared a passage for their escape but not until two of the robbers had been shot by soldiers and captured. The hold-up occurred in Fonarny-street, while the cashier under a guard of gendarmes, was driving from the custom house to the Treasury to deposit his collection. A bomb was thrown at his carriage, killing the horses. The occupants jumped out and escaped but they were immediately confronted by the revolutionists who fired on the gendarmes. One of the robbers seized a sack containing 680,000 roubles and passed it to a woman who quickly disappeared. Two more bombs were thrown at the crowd which began to collect about the carriage, mortally wounding ten persons. The crowd fell back and the revolutionists ran. A company of soldiers which had rushed out by barracks at the noise the bomb explosions lined at revolutionists bringing down two. The others escaped.

Regrouping of Great Powers.

A military convention, which in effect amounts to a full defensive alliance has been made between Great Britain, France and Italy. This momentous instrument has not nominally come into effect as yet, but in reality it is already an almost dominating factor in the European situation. It becomes operative whenever the Triple Alliance between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy, or rather the the three treaties usually grouped under that designation, shall expire "either by expiration of time or by any other cause." This regrouping of great powers is a natural outcome of the destruction of the balance of power in Europe consequent upon paralysis of Russia in the Japanese war.

It is an important step in the formation of a league of peace—the great object which King Edward has labored to achieve ever since he came to the throne of Great Britain. It has behind it the cordial support of Spain and Portugal.

There is good reason for believing that it commands also the sympathy of the United States government, which has been well aware of its inception and purposes.

The creation of this new international compact has been accompanied and followed by serious difficulties and even dangers. First and obviously was the fact that Germany would regard it not only with natural resentment, but as a direct menace. It was negotiated on the eve of the Algeciras conference, and it can hardly be denied that it was designed to some extent to act in restraint of Germany at that time. Its purpose, however, is, in every respect, non-aggressive, and it was and is impossible for the German emperor to criticise it except by abandoning his oft professed love of peace.

CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The nineteenth reunion of the Grand Camp, United Confederate Veterans, of Virginia, ended at Roanoke yesterday, and the twentieth annual meeting will be held next year at Norfolk. The session yesterday was largely attended and was presided over by Grand Commander J. H. Fulton, of Wytheville.

Gen. Stith Bolling presented the financial report, as follows: Collected during 1906, $823.94; expended, $323.19; balance, $500.57; due quartermaster of Grand Camp as salary, $150.

Major Robert W. Hunter reported on his investigation of the records and muster rolls of Virginia soldiers. The records showed that during the war 1,444 battles, skirmishes and engagements of various kinds took place in Virginia, 300 of which were in West Virginia.

The report also showed the number of soldiers furnished by various southern States up to January 25, 1864, as follows: Virginia, 153,687; Georgia, 106,157; Alabama, 90,657; North Carolina, 88,427; Mississippi, 66,982; South Carolina, 60,127. "North Carolina, our neighbor," said Major Hunter, "claimed to have had more soldiers in the war than Virginia, but it does not appear so". The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand commander, W. H. Stewart, of Portsmouth; first lieutenant grand commander, Gen. T. T. Munford, of Lynchburg; second lieutenant grand commander, Col. H. S. Brooke, of Roanoke; third lieutenant grand commander, Judge J. H. Ewell, of Lancaster; inspector general, Major T. C. Lorton, of Staunton; quartermaster general, David A. Bower, of Richmond; chaplain general, John P. Hyde, of Winchester; aides, Col. W. C. Whittle, of Norfolk; Thomas Shannon, of Portsmouth; Col. Thomas Smith, of Warrenton; R. R. Henry, of Tazewell.

The grand camp unanimously indorsed the plan of the Daughters of the Confederacy to have representation at the Jamestown Exposition.

The only business of importance to come before the meeting of the Virginia Division, United Sons of Confederate Veterans, yesterday, was the selection of a grand commander. James P. Banks, of Portsmouth, was elected. Thomas W. Miller, of Roanoke, was elected commander of the First Brigade and Paulus Garret, of Leesburg, commander of the Second Brigade. The other officers are to be appointed by the newly elected division commander.

Both the Grand Camp of Veterans and the Sons adopted appropriate resolutions on the death of Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

Killed by a Deputy Sheriff.

James Agen, a well-known stone mason, was shot and almost instantly killed yesterday morning at his home, near Belair, Md., by Deputy Sheriff John S. Worthington, who was attempting to arrest him on the charge of wife beating. Agen was considered a dangerous character, particularly when under the influence of liquor.

On Monday Agen is alleged to have ill treated his wife in a most outrageous manner, besides [illegible] her from home. She spent the night in an outbuilding on the property, and the next day sought shelter in the home of Uriah Pitt, colored. On Wednesday she went to Belair and swore out a warrant before Justice Norris for the arrest of her husband. Her story in the magistrate's office was pitiful, and she also exhibited several bruises. The warrant was placed in Deputy Worthington's hands, and he left Belair at an early hour yesterday morning to serve the paper.

Agen, who was a powerfully built man, was found at home by the deputy and the warrant was read to him. Agen immediately flew into a rage, and with an oath swore that the deputy could not take him. Reasoning with him only tended to increase Agen's anger, and grabbing an axe Agen attempted to strike the deputy, who stepped out of the way, and, drawing his revolver, fired several times in the air for the purpose of intimidating the man.

Throwing the axe down, Agen started for the house, with the remark, "I'll fix you." The deputy stood a short distance from the door with his pistol in hand, when Agen made his reappearance with a shotgun. He was warned not to raise the gun, but, instead of obeying the command, cocked both hammers and was in the act of pointing it at the deputy when the latter fired his only remaining cartridge, striking Agen just below the heart. The wounded man dropped his gun and sank into a chair, exclaiming, with an oath, "You've got me this time," and died almost immediately.

Revolting Story.

The testimony offered yesterday in Pittsburg, Pa., in the trial of Clifford Hooe, a negro and coachman of Augustus Hartje, charged with perjury in connection with the recent Hartje divorce case, was the most sensational and revolting since the Hartje domestic trouble began.

Hooe reiterated the charges of intimacy made in his first deposition and said he had been coerced into making a second deposition which is an absolute denial of the first. The negro said when he was arrested in East Liverpool, Ohio, by a number of private detectives that they had roughly used him and that while he was occupying a cell in jail one of the detectives had pointed a revolver at his head. He was told, he said, that a large crowd of angry men were awaiting his return to Allegheny county and he would be lynched unless he confessed that the charges of intimacy against Mrs Hartje were false.

Hooe said the threats frightened him into a confession, which he later signed in Pittsburg while intoxicated, the liquor he said, having been purchased by the detectives. The negro also testified to having received considerable sums of money from John L. Welshons, a friend of Mr. Hartje, but said he merely borrowed it. John Scott, the father of Mrs. Hartje, listened to the awful recital with bated breath and glared at the negro, who hung his head and looked like other way.

New York, Oct. 27—With breast bared to receive the shot that would carry out her side of what is supposed to have been a strange death pact, Victoria I. Tachkow met her death late last night in the Hotel Griffon, firm in the belief that the man she loved would not live long after taking her life. He did not, for no sooner had he fired the shot at the girl than he turned to a mirror and shot himself dead.

The man was Louis G. Hampton, assistant secretary of the United States Trust Company, with an office at Wall street, middle aged and a financier of note in the street. He is survived by a wife and two children, although he had always led Miss Tachkow to believe, it is stated, that he was unmarried, and that in a few weeks they would be wed. Miss Tachkow was a beauty of brunette type and never failed to attract attention. Hampton met her two months ago and every since he had been wildly infatuated with her.

England Anxious.

London, Oct. 27.—So serious is the trouble which has arisen between the United States and Japan because of the resentment felt by Japan over the discrimination against Japanese children in the schools of San Francisco regarded in England that the matter will be made the subject of inquiry in Parliament on Monday. Fears are entertained that England might be involved if war should break out between the two countries under the terms of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. The inquiry to be directed at the government will be directed to this point. The British Foreign Secretary will be asked to inform parliament if there is any provision in the Anglo-Japanese treaty which safeguards British dominions from being involved in the event of an armed controversy between Japan and the United States.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—Led by Emperor William himself, three rousing cheers for President Roosevelt were given today on the occasion of the inaugural address delivered by Professor John W. Burgess, of Columbia University, the first occupant of the Roosevelt chair in the Berlin University, established by James Speyer. Following the reading of a letter of good will and friendship from the President and Professor Burgess's address, the Kaiser spoke briefly, expressing his friendly sentiments toward the United States and her President. In conclusion he called on the audience to salute President Roosevelt, and himself led the shout which greeted his suggestion. Empress Augusta Victoria joined in the applause.

City Council.

There was a called meeting of the City Council last night. The session was brief. A resolution was passed offering $100 reward for the arrest of the murderer of Chas. T. Smith. A communication from Mayor Paff was previously read announcing that he had withheld his signature from a resolution offering a reward of $500, passed by both boards last Tuesday night, and giving his reasons for his action. An ordinance appropriating $500 to be used by the Mayor for criminal expenses in connection with the police department was referred to the finance committee.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

When the Mayor's communication had been read in the Aldermen Mr. Simpson asked if there was any business before the board. The paper was endorsed as having been received by the Common Council and the Mayor's objections sustained.

So far as he could see there was really nothing for the Aldermen to do, as the matter of offering $500 reward for the apprehension of the murderer of C. T. Smith had already been settled by the lower board.

President Sweeney thought the Aldermen should also act on the Mayor's communication from the fact that the resolution had been passed by both boards.

Mr. Simpson failed to see the reason for such a procedure. Should the Aldermen declare the resolution operative notwithstanding the Mayor's objection nothing could be gained after the action of the Common Council.

President Sweeney still believed the Aldermen should take action.

After further discussion Mr. Burke moved that the Alderman concur in the action of the lower board.

The question—"Shall the resolution become operative notwithstanding the Mayor objections?—was put and decided in the negative by a unanimous vote.

The resolution offering a reward of $100 for the arrest of the murderer was subsequently received from the Common Council and their action concurred in.

An ordinance appropriating $500 to be used by the Mayor in the criminal expenses of the police department was also received from the lower board and their action concurred in.

The board then adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

The board came to order at 7:35. All the members were present.

The Chair said he had called the special meeting to hear a communication from the Mayor.

The clerk then read a message from Mayor Paff giving his reasons for withholding his signature from the resolution of the last meeting offering a reward of $500 for the apprehension &c., of the murderer of C. T. Smith.

Council decline to pass the resolution over the Mayor's veto.

The Mayor in a second communication stated that he had received advice from Governor Swanson stating that he has supplemented the reward offered by the city for the arrest of the murderer by $100 from the State fund.

The communication was received.

Mr. Strauss offered a resolution that $500 be appropriated as a contingent fund to be used by the Mayor to defray the necessary criminal expenses of the police department.

Mr. Burke thought the resolution should be referred.

Mr. Boothe said that the meeting had been called to receive the Mayor's message and to offer a reward for the murderer, and the members should be faithful to the State laws which they had sworn to respect. He held that the board could not do indirectly that which they were prevented from doing directly.

Mr. Strauss said that his object was not to make a reward but to secure payment of necessary expenses of the police in the necessary prosecution in search for criminals.

Mr. Spinks advocated the resolution of Mr. Strauss.

The Chair stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the Mayor's message and of offering a reward for the capture of the murderer, and no other business could transacted without unanimous consent. He also stated that the resolution of Mr. Strauss could not be passed on the night of its first introduction.

Mr. Strauss insisted on the passage of his resolution and the Chair expressed his surprise at the stand taken by so old a member of Council, who he said had certainly known the rules at one time, but who had evidently forgotten them.

Mr. Brill moved that the resolution offered by Mr. Strauss be placed upon its passage.

Mr. Uhler objected and the objection was sustained by the Chair.

Mr. Brill appealed from the decision of the Chair and his appeal was not sustained, 10 voting to sustain the Chair against 5 in opposition, the Chair not voting.

At the suggestion of the Chair the resolution was by unanimous consent referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Birrell explained that his vote in sustaining the Chair did not mean that he was not in hearty sympathy with the offering of a liberal reward for the capture of the murderer, but that Council must act legally in the matter.

The Chair said that he and Mr. Birrel agreed exactly on this matter.

Mr. Uhler then offered a resolution, which was unanimously passed, appropriating the sum of $100 for the arrest and delivery to the Alexandria authorities of the murderer.

At the suggestion of Mr. Boothe the latter provision was substituted for the term "conviction" contained in the original resolution. It was explained that this would give a more liberal character to the offer.

Mr. Evans said that when he introduced the resolution at the last meeting offering a reward of $500 he did not think the sum too great, but as the State laws fixed a limit Council could only act under these laws. He said that it was out of the question now to expect the city police to capture the fugitive; if captured at all the arrest must be made by out-of-town officers.

Council then adjourned.

At a called meeting of the Board of Aldermen of the city of Alexandria, Va., held October 26, 1906, there were present:

J. T. Sweeney, esq., President, and Messrs. Burke, Marbury, Ballenger, Simpson and Curtis.

A communication from F. J. Paff, Mayor, announcing that he had withheld his signature from a resolution appropriating $500 for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer of Chas. T. Smith, and giving his reasons thereof; also a message from the Mayor stating that the Governor of Virginia had offered a similar sum for the same purpose; also a resolution appropriating $100 for the apprehension of the murderer, and an ordinance appropriating $500 to be used by the Mayor for criminal expenses in the police department of the city, were received from the Common Council and their action concurred in by unanimous votes.

The board then adjourned.

COMMON COUNCIL.

At a called meeting of the Common Council of the city of Alexandria, Va., held October 26, 1906, there were present: Hubert Snowden, esq., President, and Messrs. Leadbeater, Burke, Risheill, Strauss, Williams, Brill, Reader, Birrell, Rootha, Hellmuth, Harrison, Uhler, Marshall, Spinks and Evans.

The president stated that the meeting was called to consider a communication from the Mayor.

The following was received from the Mayor:

Alexandria, Va., October 25, 1906

Gentlemen—It is with much regret that I return without my signature the within paper, and in explanation of my act in vetoing same would say that it is simply a sense of duty which impels me to do so. My communication of Tuesday, the 23rd instant, is ample to satisfy you that I am heartily favorable of going as far as the law permits in offering the reward, but you will find by acts of General Assembly 1906, page 28, chapter 25, the limit of such is one hundred dollars ($100), which amount I trust it will be your pleasure to offer immediately, not that I think that the prospects of obtaining the amount offered would inspire our police to more active and diligent efforts, for I feel warranted in the assertion that no set of men ever worked more fearlessly or faithfully then have they in their endeavors to capture the fugitive, but I do think it wou'd possibly be the means of causing men of the departments of other cities to be more zealous.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED J. PAFF, Mayor.

Alexandria, Va., October 26th, 1906.

To the honorable City Council of Alexandria, Virginia.

Gentlemen—In connection with my communication of previous date I have to report that today I received advice from his excellency, the Honorable Claud A. Swanson, in which he supplemented the reward offered by you for the apprehension and conviction of the murderer of Charles T. Smith by $100 of the State funds.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED J. PAFF, MAYOR.

The question being put, shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the Mayor's objections? was decided in the negative, and the Mayor's veto was unanemously sustained.

An ordinance appropriating the sum of $500 as a contingent fund to be used by the Mayor to defray necessary criminal expenses of the Police Department, was introduced by Mr. Strauss, and read the first and second times. The Chair decided that the bill could not pass on the night of its introduction and must be referred.

Mr. Brill moved that the bill be placed on its third reading. Mr. Uhler objected and the Chair sustained. Mr. Brill appealed from [illegible] called for a roll call, as follows: To sustain the Chair—Messrs. Leadbeater, Burke, Birrell, Booth, Marbury, Ballenger, Simpson and Evans (10). Against the Chair—Williams, Brill, Reader, Harrison, Uhler, Marshall, Spinks and Curtis (9). Chair was sustained.

The following was received from the Mayor:

Respectfully submitted,
FRED J. PAFF, MAYOR.

The question being put, shall the bill become a law notwithstanding the Mayor's objections? was decided in the negative, and the Mayor's veto was unanemously sustained.

An ordinance appropriating the sum of $500 as a contingent fund to be used by the Mayor to defray necessary criminal expenses of the Police Department, was introduced by Mr. Strauss, and read the first and second times. The Chair decided that the bill could not pass on the night of its introduction and must be referred.

Mr. Brill moved that the bill be placed on its third reading. Mr. Uhler objected and the Chair sustained. Mr. Brill appealed from [illegible] called for a roll call, as follows: To sustain the Chair—Messrs. Leadbeater, Burke, Birrell, Booth, Marbury, Ballenger, Simpson and Evans (10). Against the Chair—Williams, Brill, Reader, Harrison, Uhler, Marshall, Spinks and Curtis (9). Chair was sustained.

To the Finance Committee.

Mr. Uhler presented the following, which was unanimously adopted—ayes 16, noes [illegible].

Alexandria, Va., October 26, 1906.

Resolved, that the sum of one hundred dollars be and is hereby appropriated for the arrest and delivery to the authorities of Alexandria, Va., of the murderer of C. T. Smith.

The board then adjourned.

The Mathews-Mulhall Trial.

The most important witness before the Washington police trial board yesterday in the case of Capt. Mathews and Lieut. Mulhall, charged with unbecoming conduct at the wreck in which Engineer Hugh S. Murphy was killed, was James Reynolds, who was fireman on the engine with the dead engineer.

Reynolds was on the stand about three quarters of an hour, and was examined by Capt. [illegible]. Ballard was the first witness called at the opening of the session yesterday afternoon. Ballard is an engineer on the Southern Railway. He said that he reached the scene of the wreck about 7:55, and was ejected from the police lines. Witness declare that while in the act of lifting the head of Murphy from the ground he was pulled away by a policeman. The effort to explain that he was an engineer and wished to get up to the cab for the purpose of shutting off the steam was not heeded by the police, witness said, and he was compelled to get out. He explained that if he had been allowed to get to the cab he believed he could have shut off the steam.

W. H. Bailey, C. R. Crosson, and E. F. Springmann, all of whom are railroad employees, testified to being put out of the police lines and prevented from assisting in extricating the engineer. The hearing adjourned at 4:15, to be resumed Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The proceedings were enlivened by a spirited tilt between Mr. Edmund Burke, who was prosecuting the officers, and Mr. J. S. Easby-Smith, the opposing counsel.

Mr. Burke objected to many questions put to a witness. The latter was replying to questions of the attorney for the defendants, when he was interrupted by Mr. Burke, who asked him a question concerning a picture of the wrecked locomotive.

"I object to the question and to any interruption by counsel, snapped Mr. Easby-Smith, to the chairman of the board, at the same time looking hard at Mr. Burke.

"I don't care whether you like the interruption or not," replied the opposing counsel, "and if you do not like it you can suit yourself about choosing a means of stopping it, sir. ¡No matter what your general custom is, you must treat me as a gentleman." "The gentlemen forget themselves and where they are," quietly remarked Chairman Smith, and both attorneys immediately apologized and the atmosphere cleared.

Suicide of an Alexandrian.

Isador Brown, formerly of Alexandria, proprietor of the Penny Arcade in the Eagle Hotel building at Lebanon, Pa., took his own life yesterday by shooting himself through the heart. The deed was committed some time during the noon hour in his room on the third floor of the Colonial Hotel, where he had been a boarder since last April. All doubt as to the manner of Brown's death was dispelled by the finding of the following note in his handwriting in the room.

"Could not stand heart trouble and misery any longer. Life had been a burden to me. Could not eat, drink, sleep, sit up, or lay down. All ambition had left me. I. BROWN."

Brown left directions among his effects that in case of his death his niece, Mrs. Charles Bendheim, of 812 Prince street, Alexandria, Va., be notified. In the event of failure to reach her he asked that another niece, Mrs. Clara Fisher, 1527 T street northwest, Washington, or a nephew, S. Schwartz, 1426 New York avenue, Washington, be notified.

Brown was unmarried, and about fifty-five years old. He recently went to Lebanon to open the penny arcade, and is reported to have done a good business.

The deceased had lived in this city during most of his life, having been associated with his brother-in-law, the late Isaac Schwarz, in the dry goods business. He had for a long time been a prominent and active member of George Mason Council, Royal Arcanum, of this city. He was well-known and deservedly popular with all who knew him.

Mr. Brown was in this city on Wednesday last.

Circuit Court for the County.

[Judge C. E. Nicol presiding.]

The petition of James Petit for a license for sale of liquor at Brick Haven, Jefferson district which came up, was denied by Judge Nicol. The petitioner was represented by Messrs. C. C. Carlin and Charles Bendheim, of this city. Messrs. Frank Lyon and Will N. Douglass, of the county, appeared for the opposition. A delegation of county people appeared in protest to the granting of the license. The brick companies located nearby retained Attorney Caton of this city to oppose the granting of the license, urging that present evils would be augmented by the presence of a saloon there and that the granting of a license was opposed to public policy.

On the stand the petitioners asserted that all the persons who had indorsed his application were willing to let their names stand. Others stated the belief that the establishment of a saloon authorized by law and conducted lawfully, would be a benefit to the community.

In announcing his decision Judge Nicol said he did not propose to permit the establishment of saloons in the county under such conditions.

Court adjourned till Wednesday, when the case of John Wright, colored, indicted for assault and murder, will come up.

Matter Settled Amicably.

Some excitement was caused on Cameron street early this morning by a misapprehension which came near resulting in a tragedy. A family had recently occupied a house, but yesterday they relinquished it, and the owner directed a colored man to proceed thither this morning and scrape the walls preparatory to having the same papered. The darkey was on hand, according to appointment, and was unaware of the fact that any one save himself was in the house. A male member of the family which had previously occupied the house, however, had slept in an upper room during the night, and upon hearing the colored man in the lower room proceeded down stairs to investigate. He found the man scraping the wall and, supposing him to be an intruder, he in unconventional terms asked for an explanation. The darkey, equally certain that the white man had no business on the premises, returned a quid pro quo, which angered the former occupant. The colloquy soon became serious and the negro advanced menacingly with his scraper in his hand. The white man instantly drew a pistol, when the darkey retreated. The latter left the house and proceeded to police headquarters where he applied for a warrant for the man. The matter was later made plain to both parties and the charge was withdrawn.

Meeting of the Police Board.

There was a called meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners in the Mayor's office last night.

The committee charged with the compilation of a new set of rules for the government of the police force submitted their report. The new rules, it is understood, provide for a number of important changes in the management of the force. The penalties for offenses will be graded. For some breaches of discipline fines will be imposed; in other cases suspension, while the more grave offenses will be punished by removal from the force.

This is the fifth time rules for the government of the police force of the city have been formulated. A set of rules was prepared by the committee on police of the City Council when the force was organized in 1870, and another upon the formation of the Police Board in 1895. These rules were later annulled and a new set adopted; about two years ago the rules then in existence were rescinded and those prevailing in 1895 adopted. When the present regulations shall have been adopted they will prove to be the fifth set.

Dance Last Night.

A number of young ladies and gentleman attended a dance at the Braddock House last night. An enjoyable time was experienced by all present. At the close of the dance, about midnight, the company adjourned to the Carlyle House, proceeded to the cellar and viewed the "mummy." The following ladies and gentlemen attended the dance: Misses A. Breen, M. Breen, I. Breen, M. Fannon, M. Sweeney, U. Ryan and K. Ryan, of Alexandria; Katherine Hasslett and K. O'Brien, of Washington; Mr. Cissel and S. Miller of Brookland; Messrs. H. Quinn, Charles Guisendafler, Mr. Woods, Frank Shuman, E Deahl, G. Aitcheson, L. Murdock and G. W. Bontz, jr., of Alexandria.

"Joshua Simpkins"

The "Joshua Simpkins" company, carrying their own special scenery, a band of music and a fine orchestra, will produce the great pastoral comedy-drama of that name at the Opera House next Monday night. The piece deals with country life and people, three acts of the play being laid in one of the many quaints villages of Vermont. The second act (in three scenes) portrays Uncle Josh's first visit to Washington city. In the third act a sensational sawmill effect is shown, being nothing more nor less than a complete sawmill in full operation, cutting up genuine timber. The saw is a genuine buzz or circular saw, and cuts through timber at lightning speed.

Mrs. and Miss Corbett Released.

After two years' confinement as insane persons at the Government Hospital for the insane in the District of Columbia, Mrs. Caroline F. Corbett, sixty-two years old, and her daughter, Miss Cornelia L. Corbett, yesterday were adjudged sane by a jury presided over by Justice Asbely M. Gould, in the District Supreme Court.

Unless the judge should overrule the finding of the jurors, which is considered a remote possibility, the formal order for the release of two women from St. Elizabeth's will be made Monday and they will again be free to do as they please.

The verdict of the jury followed half an hour's deliberation by twelve men, who for two days had listened to a mass of testimony from expert alienists and other.

Both woman were released on parole and left the courthouse with their friends. They will remain on parole until the case is finally disposed of Monday.

Nearly all of yesterday's hearing of the habeas corpus proceeding under which the question of sanitary of the women was tried was devoted to medical testimony. The physicians who believed that Mrs. Corbett and her daughter were insane described their malady as paranoia.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Jessie Coleman, colored, arrested by Officer Smith charged with assaulting Pearl Hawkins, was fined $5.

Tate Hall, colored, arrested by Officer Smith for being drunk in the street, was dismissed.

"Spotsy" Lane and Irwin Mullen, arrested by the same officers charged with similar offenses, were fined $2 50 each.

The Negro Murderer.

Chief of Police Goods, who has been in communication with the New York authorities concerning the whereabouts of Johnson, the negro who murdered Chas. T. Smith last Saturday night, has received replies from that city. The New York police say they have so far been unable to locate the negro, but will do all in their power to this end. They say they have no picture of the fugitive and are working at a disadvantage.

Struck with a Hammer.

William Staples, of Brooke Station, on the Washington-Southern Railway, a mechanic employed by the Southern Railway Company, was severely injured yesterday afternoon by being accidentally struck on the head by a hammer in the hands of a fellow workman while both were at work on an engine in the railroad yard in this city. The injured man was conveyed to the Alexandria Hospital.

Tobacco the "National Flower."

If the great republic must have a flower, why not adopt the tobacco plant (Nicotiana tabacum)? It is a native of this country and was first found in Virginia. There is nothing sectional or local about the plant, because today it is grown in most of the states from Florida and Louisiana to Connecticut and is now used in every nation on the globe, civilized and barbarian, if it is possible to obtain it. It is not commonly known that the tobacco plant bears a very pretty pink blossom, which might come into the flower gardens but for its rank and disagreeable odor. The Indian corn, or maize, is another plant indigenous to the United States and was found in use as food by the Indians from Virginia to Massachusetts. But if we must have a flower that is esteemed as such without regard to any economic considerations or utilitarian qualities, why not adopt the laurel (Laurus latifolia), mountain laurel or broad leaf laurel?—New Orleans Picayune.

Vegetables and Fruits.

The term vegetable has reference to the whole or any part of a plant cultivated especially with reference to use at the table. But the use of the word vegetable doesn't always depend upon cooking, for celery is a vegetable and apples are fruit whether eaten raw or cooked. One would suppose the tomato to be entitled to the term fruit, for the method of its raising resembles that of fruit. But it is usually called vegetable, whether eaten raw or cooked, in spite of its appearance. The quince is so fruitlike in appearance, so resembling apples, pears, etc., that it persists in being called fruit though eaten only when cooked. Sometimes the vegetable is a bud, as with cabbages and brussels sprouts; leaves, as spinach; stems above ground, as asparagus; stems enlarged (tubers) underground, as common potatoes, or roots, as sweet potatoes, turnips, beets and carrots.—St. Nicholas.

The Women of Tehuantepec.

The climate of the Tehuantepec isthmus compares most favorably with that of Panama, being mild and healthful, writes Rene Bache in Technical World Magazine. Coffee, cacao, tobacco, vanilla and sugar cane are grown in the region, which has a population of about 50,000. The inhabitants are hardy and industrious, those of the plains on the Pacific side being descended from the ancient race of the Zapatecos and boasting that they were never conquered by the Spaniards. It is said that the women of this race have from time immemorial been able to maintain supremacy over the weaker male sex, leaving the men at home to take care of the house and children while they carry heavy burdens to market on their heads. They are very handsome, these women, and their native costume is most artistic, including a picturesque headdress.

Why Cut Glass Breaks.

Cut glass makers explain why it is that there are frequent reports of cut glass suddenly breaking or crumbling on a table, shelf or sideboard in homes and elsewhere, although the glass was not in use. They assert that whenever the tone of any cut glass article comes into contact with its responsive chord the life of the glass will go with the tone, by which it is affected, and the glass collapses or crumbles. It is on record a famous opera singer could break cut glassware by reaching high C in her singing. Several tests were made in New York and Paris, and by her singing she broke several pieces of cut glassware. The tone of a violin if attuned so as to be in true accord with cut glass will destroy it.

Hebrews and the Sabbath.

There is not, and there never was intended to be, any such feeling of Puritanism or of Calvinism with regard to our day of rest as there is connected with the Lord's day of our neighbors. The Jewish Sabbath was to be a delight, and we read that in the mediæval ghetto dancing, among other recreations, was common on that day. There is nothing contrary to the spirit of Judaism in the playing of games or indulgence in any form of light recreation on Saturday so long as it is combined with a due regard for the sacred claims of divine worship.—Jewish World.

The White Headed Boy.

The phrase "his mother's white headed boy" is as old as the hills in Ireland. It appears in many of the Irish fairy stories of the last century. Irish mothers who knew good fairies always kept the secret for the "white headed boy" of the family. Gerald Griffin in one of his best short stories years ago used the phrase as one he had borrowed from an old Celtic book.

Mixed as to Definitions.

Hungry Higgins—Wot! You dunno wot a miser is? A miser is a man that denies hisself the necessaries of life when he has the money to buy 'em. Weary Watkins—Oh, I have met some of them fellers. But I t'ought they called theirselves Prohibitionists.—Indianapolis Journal.

Fully Valued Then.

"We never realize the full value of a thing until we lose it," remarked the man who was fond of moralizing.

"That's right," replied the practical man, "especially if the thing lost was insured."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Devil's Island Torture.

is no worse than the terrible case of Piles that afflicted me 10 years. Then I was advised to apply Bucklen's Arnica salve, and less than a box permanently cured me, writes L. S. Napier, of Rugles, Ky. Heals all wounds, Burns and Sores like magic. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists.

Drop by drop the offensive discharge caused by Nasal Catarrh falls from the back of the nose into the throat, setting up an inflammation that is likely to mean Chronic Bronchitis. The certain, rational cure for Catarrh is Ely's Cream Balm, and the relief that follows even the first application cannot be told in words. Don't suffer a day longer from the discomfort of Nasal Catarrh. Cream Balm is sold by all druggists for 50 cents, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

JEWELRY.

Going Housekeeping?

If so, you can hardly get along without spoons, knives and forks. The silver-plated are without a doubt the most economical in the end. They wear longer, look better and cost very little more than the ordinary kinds. We can even supply silver-plated knives with steel blades.

Your sideboard is hardly complete without a silver set. Silver cake and fruit baskets should also be placed there.

A candelabra with will brighten the table considerably. After the spread has been cleared off a silver fern dish should be placed on the table.

The necessary things in cut-glass are the decanter, the berry bowl and the celery dish. In a great many homes the ice cream is served on cut glass plates.

On your dresser place a traveling alarm clock and a sterling silver or silver-plated toilet set, also a hat and clothes brush.

You will find plenty use of a number of small silver-plated trays. One has always so many trinkets to take care of.

There should be a jewel case on the dresser, if only for appearance sake. Over night it is a good place to keep the watch and Z—K Gold Chain.
